

KIDS SHARE WORKSHOPS, INC. OF CENTRAL VERMONT WINS THE 2010 USBBY BRIDGE TO UNDERSTANDING AWARD

Kids Share Workshops, Inc., located in Central Vermont, has been selected as the winner of the 2010 USBBY Bridge to Understanding Award. Through innovative arts and book-making projects, Kids Share raises awareness of global cultures and of issues that concern children and their safety and well-being in many parts of the world. Challenges facing the people of countries such as Tibet and other areas in conflict are brought to the forefront in these projects. Children in Vermont schools and the Boys & Girls Club connect with children in countries like Tibet, Nicaragua, and India through arts and literary projects that result in a cross-cultural exchange of illustrated narrative books. The overall mission of Kids Share Workshops to raise awareness of global cultures through co-created children's narratives and illustrations directly reflects the purpose and mission of the USBBY Bridge to Understanding Award. For information on the outreach activities and multiple projects of Kids Share Workshops, Inc. go to www.KidsShareWorkshops.org.

Founder/director of Kids Share Workshops, Inc., Kristina Applegate Lutes, will accept the award in Washington D. C. on Sunday, June 26, 2010 during the ALA co-sponsored USBBY session.

The Bridge to Understanding Award carries a monetary prize of $1,000 and a certificate. This prestigious award was established in memory of Arlene Pillar, an educator who served USBBY as newsletter editor from 1984 until 1990. The award recognizes a program that promotes reading as a way to expand understanding of one or more cultures or countries outside of the United States. Preference is given to programs that focus on contemporary life and culture. Organizations eligible for this award include schools, libraries, scout troops, clubs and bookstores. The program may be a one-time event or an ongoing series that serves children ranging in age from kindergarten through tenth grade. Applications and criteria for the 2011 award are available at www.usbby.org or from the USBBY secretariat at Secretariat@usbby.org. Phone: (224) 233-2030.
