

CALL FOR ENTRIES FOR 2017 BRIDGE TO UNDERSTANDING AWARD

The Bridge to Understanding Award sponsored by the United States Board on Books for Young People (USBBY) is seeking applicants for the 2017 award. The award recognizes a program that promotes reading children's literature as a way to expand a child's world. It was established in memory of Arlene Pillar, an educator who served USBBY as newsletter editor from 1984 until her untimely death in 1990. The award carries a monetary prize of $1,000 and a certificate.

Any organization (schools, libraries, clubs, scout troops) within the United States that presents a program for children using children's literature and reading as a way of promoting a deep understanding of one or more cultures of countries other than the United States is eligible to apply. Programs should be based in a broad understanding of culture as ways of living and being in the world that go beyond the surface features of food, fashion, folklore, famous people, and festivals. Preference will be given to programs that focus on contemporary life and culture. The targeted cultures should not be those from which the majority of the children participating in the program have come.

The program may be a one-time event or an ongoing series that serves children ranging in age from kindergarten through tenth grade. The selection committee will consider such criteria as the care with which books are selected and presented to children in the program, the depth of cultural understanding that the program supports, the number of children reached by the program and the impact on the community as demonstrated by publicity coverage or anecdotal evidence. To be considered, the program must occur within 2016.

Application forms are available online at www.usbby.org, or from the USBBY Secretariat, 5202 Old Orchard Road, Suite 300, Skokie, IL 60077. Email: Secretariat@usbby.org Phone: (224) 233-2030. Deadline for submissions is September 15, 2017. The award will be presented in 2017 at the annual IRA, ALA, or NCTE Convention, or at a mutually agreeable place and time.

CRITERIA FOR THE 2017 BRIDGE TO UNDERSTANDING AWARD

1. Program must be sponsored by an organization (schools, libraries, clubs, scout troops) within the United States.
2. Program must promote reading as a way to expand a child's world.
3. Program must use books and reading as a way of promoting an understanding of one or more cultures of countries other than the United States. The targeted cultures should not be those from which the majority of the children participating in the program have come.
4. Program must focus on cultures of individual countries rather than on continents as a whole. A program may include cultures of some or all countries on a continent or culture from a selection of countries from various continents.
5. Stereotypes or traditional costumes without cultural authenticity and contemporary significance to a culture will disqualify the entry. Preference will be given to current rather than traditional culture.
6. The program may be a one-time event or an ongoing series that serves children ranging in age from kindergarten through tenth grade.
7. In order to be considered, the program must occur within 2016. The program may begin in a prior year and extend into the eligible year. Entire project must be described and submitted by January 31st of the year immediately following the year in which the project is completed. An ongoing program may be submitted but must be fully described.
8. Goals for the program must be stated and the program must meet the stated goals. How it reaches the goals must be described.
9. The impact on the community must be demonstrated by publicity coverage or anecdotal evidence.
10. Submit all application documents electronically.
